Open Eyes Group | N. Creek Apt. Clubhouse, 2642 Chukar Loop, Post Falls

Mon. & Wed. 8:15 p.m. / GSR: Ron R.

I have not been active in the program since my medical diagnosis last summer. I think most know I've stepped away from my position at the Central Office. But with that in mind and the changes at the Central Office, my home group thought there is some information I should bring to the groups at the district level. All decisions in AA should be made by a group conscience. At the Central Office level, that is done by the group representatives from each group who participate at the Central Office representatives meeting by the by-laws quarterly. I'm now told every monthly meeting is now a group representatives meeting. I'm also being told the by-laws are being changed. It's up to the groups to give the Central Office direction. I'm unhappy that it was decided to do away with the answering service. If you call now after hours you get a recording telling you to call the Crisis Center. I don't think the Crisis Center is much help to the alcoholic who's looking for support to stop drinking. Only, in my opinion, can another alcoholic do that. I also noted the current office coordinator is paid $600 per month. That is four times what I received. I always felt my position at the Central Office was volunteer with compensation for mileage, not to be paid at minimum wage for four hours per day. There were months I needed to wait a week to cash my $150 check for the month because there were not enough funds in the checking account to cover it that week. I think looking at the treasurer's report by group representatives is very important, to see how much is in the working reserve, the prudent reserve (which should be $3,000) and the tax liability account, to see that all are stable and separate from each other. Groups need to be active and informed. If you are not, don't complain about things you and your group have control over. I'm sharing my opinion, but only the group conscience can make decisions. No one person decides what needs to be done at any level in A.A.
